Stratux ADS-B Receiver Discussion

If you built the Stratux ADS-B receiver at our March 11 meeting you will want to come to our June 10 meeting. We would like you to share your successes in using the ADS-B unit to encourage and help those that are still not sure how to make it work or get full use out of it. And if you're one of those having problems or questions about using the unit we would like to help you. Bring your unit with you to the meeting. Or if you are just interested in the Stratux ADS-B receiver but didn't build one please join us to get your questions answered.

The new FAA BasicMed is up and running

If you have already completed the FAA BasicMed and would be willing to share your success and issues with the group please join us June 10. If you have questions on how it really worked for someone we hope to have some answers for you.

We have $220 of YE credits for use at EAA camps this year.

We are looking for worthy applicants.
